MURRAY HOTEL RESTORATION

The Persistence of Memory: Restoring an architectural icon

Designed by architect Ernest Workman, and originally owned by contractor Fred St. Clair Murray, the iconic Murray Hotel was completed in 1915 to serve as an apartment hotel for workers during the city's building boom. In 1919, Canada's Royal North West Mounted Police leased it as its temporary Vancouver barracks.

Recognizing that this historic landmark—adjacent to Addition—was worthy of protection, Kenstone Properties is investing over a million dollars to restore the Murray Hotel to its former glory. It has since been designated a Vancouver Heritage Building so that it can remain in place—a fascinating window into our collective past, preserved and protected for future generations.

KENSTONE PROPERTIES

Passion for innovative design. Commitment to rising above the ordinary. Since 1991, Kenstone Properties has been applying these principles to the design of progressive living spaces that stand the test of time. Modern yet classic. Future-oriented yet timeless. Inspired by British Columbia's urban and natural landscapes, Kenstone Properties create effortless homes of enduring value—like those at Sage and Sixth + Willow—that work as planned, and more importantly, in life.

HENRIQUEZ PARTNERS ARCHITECTS

Richard Henriquez is an iconic figure in Canadian architecture. He is a winner of the Gold Medal of the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada (RAIC), the most prestigious award for lifetime achievement in Canadian architecture; and his signature buildings comprise a significant portion of the architectural legacy in the Lower Mainland.

HEATING & COOLING

Clima Canal: Addition's revolution in cool

Live in maximum comfort with a low carbon footprint. Offering complete climate control, Clima Canal is a powerful heating, cooling and ventilation system in one compact and silent system. These low-voltage forced-air radiators have been distinctly engineered to deliver record output with minimal input. Compared to conventional systems in service today, Clima Canal consumes less than one-tenth the electrical energy to provide climatic comfort all year round.

Smartforme: Pay for what you use

Smartforme brings the world's best energy generation and management technology to Addition, taking green to a new level. Cooling energy waste is recycled to preheat domestic hot water. Advanced in-suite metering tracks your energy usage. Smartforme optimizes your resource consumption so that you pay only for the energy you use.
